

Regulated Outsourcing and Insurers

Outsourcing operations does not absolve regulatory responsibility. In fact, it can add an additional layer of risk to an insurer while offering business benefits.

We can steer you through the regulatory requirements and guidance, consider the risks of outsourcing with you, and advise on appropriate controls for your business, which are often different to nonregulated industries — all as an integrated part of our service offering.

Crucially, and unlike most other law firms, we lead these transformational projects from our insurance team. Its members are embedded in the industry and understand your business operations and products.

Representative experience

Advised a leading financial institution on the launch of its bulk annuities business to provide buy-in and buy-out solutions to defined pension schemes.

Advised Swiss Re on the outsourcing to it by Norwich Union of almost three million life and pension policies.

Advised numerous listed and nonlisted companies in Germany on their outsourcing of pension liabilities by way of Contractual Trust Arrangements.

Contacts

Tim Goggin,
London

Practices

Insurance
